

DPAS Appoint New Finance and IT Director

Leading providers of dental plan administration services, DPAS, are delighted to announce the appointment of Christine Nicholson to the role of Finance and IT Director.

Christine joins Quentin Skinner, Andrew Warren and Gary Anders as the final member in the senior management team at DPAS, which now blends a formidable array of skills and experience from both inside and outside the dental industry.

Christine's wide ranging experience in finance and IT systems management spans nearly 30 years and has been gained in a variety of different market sectors including banking, the military and software development. This breadth of experience has exposed her to numerous diverse activities and responsibilities, including her role prior to joining DPAS where she was in charge of the premier zoo in the Middle East. Having been appointed to build a financially and ecologically sustainable business, Christine also found herself making decisions on every aspect of the zoo's operation; from finance and strategy to what type of food should be given to the gazelles!

Having returned to the UK, Christine began studying part-time for a law degree and joining DPAS presented the perfect opportunity to incorporate her studies with a new and challenging role in which she can bring her wide range of skills to what is, for her, a new market sector.

"Quentin and Andrew are extremely positive about DPAS' position in the market and the future prospects for growth. My remit is to undertake a complete business review that will ensure that strategy and operations are aligned and make the business operate even more efficiently on every level. This will ensure our front-line delivery to dentists and patients is of the highest quality and that we are in the best position possible to take advantage of future growth opportunities."
